Senator Taft Opposes Repeal Of Neutrality

Says It Would Give FDR Authority To Carry On Undeclared War

Washington, Oct. 28.—(AP)—Senator Taft (R-Ohio) replied to President Roosevelt's condemnation of "hamstringing provisions" in the neutrality act today with a declaration that repeal legislation, if passed, would give the President authority to "carry on an undeclared war."

The senate galleries were crowded as Taft took the floor to state the opposition's case.

The passage of the resolution before the senate is direct authority from the congress to the President to carry on an undeclared war against Germany, Italy and Japan, on all the oceans of the world, and in all the ports into which sea-going ships may sail," the Ohioan said solemnly.

"If the members of the senate intend to keep their pledges to the people of the United States, pledges made by themselves, by their leaders and by their party, they can only vote 'no' on the present resolution," he declared.

Will Recheck All Deferred Registrants

Threatened Shortage In 1-A's Reported In Recent Weeks

By BRUCE BLOSSAT
Springfield, Ill., Oct. 28.—(UP)—State Selective Service Director Paul G. Armstrong said today he planned to advise local draft boards in Illinois this week to recheck the status of all deferred registrants in an effort to swell the list of 1-A men.

National selective service headquarters recommended careful recheck of local boards' lists, Armstrong said, in answer to his request for aid in meeting the problem of a threatened shortage of 1-A's reported in recent weeks by more than 20 Illinois boards.

Although draft boards at Moline reported yesterday that they have exhausted their backlog of 1-A men, Armstrong said the shortage threat generally was not yet pressing. Most boards do not expect the danger to become acute for two or three months.

Too Lenient a Policy
Draft board officials at Moline ascribed the early depletion of its 1-A group to heavy occupational deferment for Rock Island arsenal and farm implement company workers, and to a lenient policy toward married men and others claiming dependents.

The suggested review of all deferred cases is based on the likelihood that the circumstances of many deferred registrants may have altered since original classification, Armstrong said. A considerable number may now properly belong in 1-A.

He said the chief groups where reclassification may occur are 3-A, those deferred on account of dependents; 2-A, those deferred because their skills are needed in defense industries; and 1-B, those deferred for limited physical disability. Some Illinois boards already have undertaken thorough re-examination of registrants' status on their own initiative, Armstrong said. At this time the state headquarters' recommendation for a recheck will not be mandatory but merely advisory.

Beaverville And Kankakee Boys Enlist In Army

Two more youths from this area were enlisted in the army today by Corp. Melvin E. Ankam, recruiting officer at the post office.

Richard A. Walters, 19, of 441 North Illinois avenue, joined the regular army and was assigned to the coast artillery in the Panama Canal zone.

Francis J. Pombert, 22, of Beaverville, was accepted by the army corps and assigned to Wichita Falls, Tex.

Organization commanders are liberal in the granting of passes, according to the recruiter. These passes extend over a period of days if a request is reasonable. Under normal conditions, men also are allowed a month furlough after full pay. Soldiers are encouraged to visit their parents when practicable and to keep up a correspondence with relatives and friends.

Jury Decides Negro Did Not Rape Woman

Two Witnesses For Complainant Fail To Appear At Trial

Whatever it was that happened on the banks of the Kankakee river near the Frank Legro home, 451 East Water street, about noon last night, it was not rape, in the opinion of a circuit court jury.

The jury, charged with the responsibility of determining the guilt or innocence of Sam Stevenson, 29, Chicago colored man, also known as Stevens, reached a sealed "not guilty" verdict at 11:20 o'clock last night, after deliberating six hours.

Stevenson, car washer and polisher, had been a prisoner in the county jail four months, having been unable to make bond after being arrested on the complaint of Mrs. Helen Spaulding, also colored, of Chicago.

Mixed Up On Time
Having failed to appear when the case was opened yesterday morning, she was brought here from Chicago by order of State's Attorney Joseph J. Tolson. She said she had misunderstood the time when the trial was to open.

Mrs. Spaulding asserted that her person had been forcibly violated by Stevenson on the banks of the river here on the day in question, and that Stevenson was assisted by one Fred Jones, colored, Chicago.

Afterward, she said, she ran to the nearby Legro home and asked for help. Police came, she said, and Stevenson was arrested.

In explanation of the non appearance of Jones and his wife Essie, who she said was in an automobile near by at the time of the alleged assault, she said she does not know where they are.

"No Resistance"
Stevenson denied that any force was necessary and asserted that he had previously attempted relations with Mrs. Spaulding, without resistance, in an automobile while her husband was beside her asleep.

His testimony regarding her flight to the Legro home was substantiated by Mr. Legro, who said she came there crying and "looked scared."

Testimony of both prosecuting witness and defendant was that the river bank incident followed an all-night jaunt by automobile of Mr. and Mrs. Spaulding, Mr. and Mrs. Jones and Stevenson, during which they stopped at several taverns in Chicago, Gary and Chicago Heights.

Saves Passenger And Himself As Boat Upsets

Caper-cutting L. L. Shidder, 1104 South Wildwood avenue, had the closest call of his motor boating career in the Kankakee river Sunday afternoon.

When his boat upset at high speed in the rain and rough water, Shidder was equal to the emergency. He saved himself, his passenger and his boat.

Shidder was cutting dikes in his customary fashion, with Leo Beaupre, 1018 South Osborn avenue, as the passenger. A gust of wind sent the boat over and the two became entangled in canvas which they had been holding over them.

Shidder disentangled himself and Beaupre, who can not swim, from the canvas, and assisted the passenger on top of the boat's bottom, prevented from sinking by his air tanks.

Although hampered by his clothing and by a water temperature well below swimming comfort, Shidder then swam to shore, pushing the boat and the passenger before him. They landed safely at the rear of the Milton Flageole home.

Another Wave Of Cold Air To Follow

BY THE UNITED PRESS
A mass of cold air hung over a broad belt of states eastward from the Rocky Mountains today and depressed temperatures to wintry levels.

Snow flurries were reported in the northern and eastern Great Lakes region and snow was forecast for the Dakotas and Minnesota today.

G. E. Dunn, U. S. weather forecaster at Chicago, said the cold front was moving eastward rapidly. It passed Chicago yesterday morning and was expected to reach the east coast before noon today. Dunn said the cold air reached as far south as Georgia.

Sub-freezing temperatures were recorded throughout the central states south to Missouri and Kansas. Readings included 14 at Jamestown, N. D.; Bemidji, Minn.; 22 at Park Falls, Minn.; 24 at Sioux City, Ia.; and 27 at Chicago.

Temperatures were in the 60's in eastern coastal cities early today before the cold mass reached the seaboard. On the west coast, readings were near normal with low points recorded in the 50's.

Dunn said sub-normal temperatures would continue for a week. He said the mercury would rise tomorrow in the Mississippi valley, but that another wave of cold air would follow in the wake of a storm moving over the great plains today.

Local Plant 100% Defense Industry

Manco Factory Was First Here To Get War Contracts

The Manco Manufacturing company, West avenue and Grove street, Bradley, is a 100 per cent defense industry plant, engaged in manufacturing bolt cutters and wire cutters for the navy, machinists' vises, gear covers for turret lathes and numerous small parts under subcontracts.

This plant was the first in this community to obtain defense contracts and performed similar work during the world war.

Howard Mann, the company's president, who was the speaker at yesterday's Kiwanis club meeting in McKeon's cafe, said that the procedure of obtaining government work is much the same as obtaining any other kind of contract, by bidding. A 15 per cent bid bond is required, and a 25 per cent performance bond.

Work 19 Hours a Day
He said his plant is working 19 hours a day, six days and six nights a week. The employee list is 96.

The Bradley plant is also engaged in manufacturing hemp harvesting machinery for private use, but the hemp harvested by such machines in Wisconsin is snapped up by the government for defense.

Hemp used for rope, said the speaker, is obtained from the plant commonly known as marijuana, and the value of such a crop was illustrated by the fact that a 47-acre farm in Wisconsin returns $114 to the acre, with the seed furnished the grower.

Must Have Permit
Since the hemp plant is also the source of narcotics, a growing permit is required.

Mr. Mann also described the strict

2 Training Schools For Local Leaders Of Home Bureau

The Kankakee county Home bureau will have two local leader training schools Thursday, one on handicraft and the other on dressing poultry.

The handicraft school, which will be held in the home bureau offices at 10 a. m., will be conducted by the home adviser, Miss Ruth A. Gustafson. There will be a display of Christmas gifts which can be easily made at home and Miss Gustafson will give a demonstration of wrapping of gifts.

The local leaders who represent each Home bureau unit will present this lesson to their units during November as a minor lesson.

The training school on the dressing of poultry will be held at the Y. W. C. A. at 1:30 in the afternoon. Mrs. Kathryn Beale Niles, home economist of the poultry and egg national board will have charge of the picking and drawing of the chicken by a representative of a poultry company in Chicago.

The training school will emphasize methods of trussing, drawing, and plumping poultry. These methods will be presented to the units by the local leaders in November or December.

The other major lesson for those months, given by the home adviser, will be "Seeing Yourself as Others See You." Silhouettes will be made of Home bureau members in order to enable them to classify their figure type. These silhouettes will be used in helping them select clothes which are suited to their figure.

Momence Man Denies He Owes $757 Note

Selection of a jury to hear a suit by the Northern Illinois Finance corporation of Aurora, vs. R. E. Murphy, Momence druggist, began this morning in circuit court before Judge Luther B. Bratton.

The first prospective jurors called to the box are: Charles Soule, St. Anne; Claris Wille, Momence; William Selfert, Bourbonnais; Joe Hendrix, Carrie Hixson, Florence Stump, Stella McIntosh, Bernard Carney, Herman Robinson, Mrs. Ethel Stuck, Herbert Wells and Florence LaCost, Kankakee.

The finance companies claims to be the owner of a note for $757.80 payable in monthly installments of $42.10, allegedly given by the Momence druggist to the Wernherholm Sales & Service, Momence, on March 30, 1939. The complainant says no part of the note has ever been paid.

The answer of Murphy alleges the note was obtained "by fraud," that it was given in payment for an auto purchased on that day. The auto company did not own the car in question, says the answer, nor was it ever delivered to him.

The finance company is represented by Attorneys L. M. Ochsen-schlager and Frank Reid Jr. of Aurora, and Fred R. Stith of Kankakee and the defendant by Attorneys Charles W. Kuriz of Kankakee and E. P. Harney of Momence.

Foreign Press Sees U. S. A Step Nearer The War

Axis Capitals Denounce President's Speech; British Pleased

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bitter denunciations and denials in the axis capitals, satisfaction in Britain and cautious official silence in Tokyo were the major responses today to President Roosevelt's "shooting has started" speech last night.

The Hamburger Gremdenblatt in Germany described the speech as "the last step to an undeclared shooting war against Germany and her allies."

The newspaper said the speech caused no fear in Germany and "indicates a shocking misjudgment of the moral strength of the German people when the president, referring to November, 1918, created a vain hope for the collapse of the German people."

Informed Germans said the speech would have been funny "except for the fact that the president's policies could have the direct consequences."

Italian Fascists interpreted the speech to mean a move toward another step toward United States belligerence.

Virginio Gayda, foremost Italian foreign commentator, called President Roosevelt's announcement of aid to China in his speech "an ostentatious challenge" which Japan would handle.

Within 15 Miles Of Rostov In Southern Russia

Crucial Engagements Loom In Battles For Moscow

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Russia's Red armies defending Moscow, strengthened by fresh reserves from Siberia, were reported to have launched a series of fierce counter-attacks in all sections and driven the German back as much as 10 miles from the U. S. S. R. capital at some points today.

The whole German offensive, however, appeared to have stepped up violently in tempo.

Coincidentally, deep significance was attached to reports that Adolf Hitler received two Turkish generals at his eastern front headquarters after an inspection trip "which gave them an impressive picture of the achievements and successes of German troops and their allies."

Pressure on Turks
Neutral observers quickly speculated that the Reichsfuehrer may have exerted personal pressure on the Turks for permission for German troops to pass through Turkey for an assault on Syria, Iraq, Iran (Persia) or the Russian Caucasus, thus countering any attempt by Britain to send her middle east armies to support the Russians.

Dispatches to Red Star, Soviet army newspaper, said Russian troops had fortified themselves in new positions after their counter-attacks and that the Nazis had twice been beaten off in assaults on the village of "B." Forty of 80 German tanks used in the attack were destroyed, the dispatches said.

Far to the east of the battle lines, the Russians were reported training a reserve army in eastern Siberia to prosecute the war.

Weather Hampers Nazis
Bad weather, coupled with bitter Soviet counter-blows, was reported to be slowing the Germans along the front.

Latest dispatches reaching London said the Nazi onslaught into the southern Ukraine was slackening in the face of Soviet resistance, but it was acknowledged that German forces had advanced within 10 to 15 miles of Rostov, gateway to the Caucasus oil fields.

In the north, the Germans said their siege guns had been pounding Leningrad steadily for the past 24 hours—apparently as the prelude to a direct infantry assault—and that Russians encircled in the Leningrad sector had made an unsuccessful attempt yesterday to escape by sea.

German military observers said thick columns of smoke mushroomed over the one-time capital of the cars as Nazi artillery rained shells into Leningrad's factory districts.

Whitney Ferris Heads Illini Alumni Here

Whitney Ferris was elected permanent chairman of the Kankakee county alumni of the University of Illinois at the rally held Monday evening in the Hotel Kankakee. Mrs. Louis E. Beckman Jr. was named secretary.

About 35 Illini alumni attended the meeting, formulating the nucleus of a group which is to meet at least once a year to hear speakers from the state campus inform them what's new at the university and to develop a closer tie between alumni and their alma mater.

The speakers last night included Josef F. Wright, director of publicity, and E. E. Stafford, field representative of new buildings and developments also were shown.

Calling attention to the many contributions to better living in the state and nation which the U. of I. has made in its extensive research laboratories, Wright reminded Kankakee alumni that Prof. Tykociner in 1921 produced and demonstrated the world's first sound-on-film talking pictures on the Illinois campus.

He recalled that certain ventilation problems of the vehicular tubes under the Hudson river were sent to Illinois for solution; that the American Heating and Ventilating society erected at the U. of I. 20 years ago a $25,000 research residence to help solve problems relating to warm air heating and ventilating of homes; that another research house has been opened near the campus by the steam and hot water manufacturing group.

The engineering and agriculture experiment stations have carried on hundreds of projects of proved practical value and its chemistry and medical contributions are world famous.

FDR Orders Full Speed Ahead To End Hitlerism

Bares Nazi Plot For Partitioning Of Latin America

Washington, Oct. 28.—(AP)—President Roosevelt damned the torpedoes and called for full speed ahead today in the nation's efforts to hasten "the destruction of Hitlerism."

In a Navy day address that went to the four corners of the earth by radio, the chief executive declared last night that "the shooting has started." . . . America has been attacked."

Then he used for his keynote the fighting words which Admiral Farragut gave to history in the battle of Mobile Bay.

He pledged that military supplies of all kinds would reach Hitler's foes, despite all Nazi seaway threats, and he added with firm assurance: "In the light of a good many years of personal experience, I say that it can never be doubted that the goods will be delivered by this nation, whose navy believes in the tradition of 'damn the torpedoes; full speed ahead!'"

"Hitler Will Be Stopped"

He told the world that "the forward march of Hitlerism can be stopped—and it will be stopped."

"Very simply and very bluntly," he said. "We are pledged to pull our own oar in the destruction of Hitlerism."

He called attention to his order commanding the navy to "shoot on sight," whenever axis raiders are encountered.

"Those orders stand," he said sternly.

The speech was Mr. Roosevelt's first public pronouncement on international affairs in six weeks, and he used it to cover an important series of topics.

He charged that the Hitler regime had already mapped and planned the future partitioning of much of Latin America into five vassal states. Documentary proof of this, he said, is now in the hands of the United States government.

He charged, too, that the Nazis had completed a secret program to be put into effect when the time was ripe—for exterminating all existing religions and replacing them with a new order credo which would have Mein Kampf for its bible, the swastika and naked sword for its symbols.

He gave his promise that once the "curse of Hitlerism" had been ended, the United States "shall help to establish a new peace which will give the decent people everywhere a better chance to live and prosper in security and in freedom and in faith."

Defense Obstruction

And—amid two great outbursts of applause and cheers from his immediate audience—he struck out against the "selfish obstruction" of defense production by labor disputes.

The first occasion was an inescapable reference to the captive coal mine strike which Mr. Roosevelt has thrice asked CIO's John L. Lewis to call off.

"Our nation will and must speak from every assembly line," Mr. Roosevelt began, and then departed from his prepared text to interpolate: "Yes, from every coal mine—from the all-inclusive whole of our vast industrial machine. . . . Our output must be multiplied."

He continued:

"It cannot be hampered by the selfish obstruction of a small but dangerous minority of labor leaders who are a menace. . . ."

Applause and cheers halted him momentarily here, but presently he was able to continue:

" . . . For labor as a whole knows that small minority is a menace to the true cause of labor itself, as well as to the nation as a whole."

Navy League Dinner

The setting for the President's address was the annual dinner of the Navy League in the glittering ballroom of the Mayflower hotel. There were uniforms and gold braid in profusion. Ensigns, admirals, army and marine officers rubbed elbows, and shared tables with congressmen, members of the judiciary and representatives of foreign countries—the fare was fo'c'sle fare—navy bean soup, fat back and cabbage, and navy brisquet, Mulligan style.

At the very outset Mr. Roosevelt indicted Hitler for attacking shipping in "areas close to the Americas in the north and south Atlantic."

He cited the loss of American merchantmen and the two torpedo attacks on U. S. destroyers—the unsuccessful one on the Greer, and the one that damaged the Kearny, killing eleven and wounding ten of her crew.

He cited the loss of American merchantmen and the two torpedo attacks on U. S. destroyers—the unsuccessful one on the Greer, and the one that damaged the Kearny, killing eleven and wounding ten of her crew.

"We have wished to avoid shooting," he said. "But the shooting has started. And history has recorded who fired the first shot. In the long run, however, all that will matter is who fired the last shot."

Mr. Roosevelt referred in ironic tones to Hitler's frequent protestations "that his plans for conquest do not extend across the Atlantic ocean."

"But," he commented, "his submarines and raiders prove otherwise. And so does the entire design of his world order."

Hitler's South American Plans

"For example, I have in my possession a secret map made in Germany by Hitler's government—by the planners of the new world order. It is a map of South America and a part of Central America, as Hitler proposes to reorganize it."

"Today in this area there are four separate countries. But the geographical experts in Berlin, however, have ruthlessly obliterated all existing boundary lines. They have divided South America into five vassal states, bringing the whole continent under their domination."

"And they have also so arranged it that the territory of one of these new puppet states includes the republic of Panama and our great life line—the Panama canal."

"This is his plan. It will never go into effect."

"And that map, my friends, makes clear the Nazi design not only against South America but against the United States itself."

The President then turned to the subject of religion.

"Your government has in its possession another document made in Germany by Hitler's government. It is a detailed plan, which, for obvious reasons, the Nazis did not and do not wish to publicize just yet, but which they are ready to impose a little later on a dominated world—if Hitler wins."

Opposes Religion

"It is a plan to abolish all existing religions—Catholic, Protestant, Mohammedan, Hindu, Buddhist and Jewish alike. The property of all churches will be seized by the reich and its puppets. The cross and all other symbols of religion are to be forbidden. The clergy are to be forever liquidated—silenced under penalty of the concentration camp. . . ."

"In place of the churches of our civilization, there is to be set up an international Nazi church—a church which will be served by the orators sent out by Nazi government. In the place of the Bible, the words of Mein Kampf will be imposed and enforced as holy writ. And in place of the cross of Christ will be put two symbols—the swastika and the naked sword."

Federal estimates place the 1941-42 school enrollment in the U. S. at 31,566,000.
